Dar Ruh-e Haq runs a kind of correspondence course on Islam — sends out short lessons with a sheet of questions at the end which the student fills in & mails back — these are graded (scored).

Around 4 I returned to Razvi's office to keep the appointment with Golpayeganji. I found Razvi with an older Moroccan man whose English was fairly good — Ben Khadr; he is to be here & use the libraries on religious matters for some months — in Qum til about the 1st of April, mainly under the Ruh-e Haq ~~of~~ auspices. He had a rather low opinion of the Iranians. We showed him around a bit — the language was English (because of me?) but later also a bit of Arabic (so Pakistani & Moroccan can't be mutually unintelligible!)

Razvi & I then proceeded to Golpayeganji's house which is off Chahradan. Again a new ungainly brick house. We first were left into a waiting room where I was immediately the center of attention — where is he from, when did he become Muslim. Saying I was a Christian proved to be a mistake: Jesus, was he of the lineage of David or was he God's son; both Razvi & a white turbaned guy (who had been asking me phatic questions (but nonetheless intensely) about whether I had been to California, Panama, Mexico — it turned out he teacher some geography & was testing his knowledge. He however did not know where Boston was & asked on to New York — I was from N.Y.) stepped in to save me & to answer the questions themselves (Razvi: he's a sociologist, he doesn't have to be able to defend doctrinal matters about which maybe he's not so well-informed — to which of course the response was but this is a question about cosmology — like where are the Arayans from — white turbaned guy went in to answer these & kill a minor dubbing debate about Noah's ark just found in Russia (sic!) — Masavi Alghani had insisted the other day to Akbari & me that Mt ~~Ararat~~ Ararat was in N. Afghanistan or Russia whence all the people of the world originally stem). Razvi suggested henceforth I say I am a seeker rather than positively asserting an identity for the latter is a spur to these guys to attack: minds still like children.

We went in to see Golpayeganji, who was seated on the floor but with blankets over him — still recuperating from his eye operation. Razvi started the intro. of who I was & that I either wanted to put some questions to him now or set a later time to do so. Golpayeganji wanted the latter, saying he would prefer after Nozur when there was less ~~shehata~~ & when we could talk more privately & as long as I was going to be around for a while, we could afford to wait a few days. He had just finished settling a dispute involving some written dispute by saying OK you take this SOT too — wh. So Tomer had been in public view. On the way out we talked to a young man — his son (grandson?) Mehdi — who was very friendly & suggested after Nozur I could come & talk to either himself or an Aghaie Safi — just by coming by the house & setting things up. Said he had been studying English

29 March (Sat)

Morning: 1) Residence Police gave me my permit but only for a month! Say that the letter from Science & Higher Ed had a mistake in it. Hajari of course will not return to work till the 15th & Dr Kia says that the Min. does not make requests or fine, only says what the period of research is. It is then up to the police. Hosseini of the police listed that the Min. has something to do with it — something like this occurred with the mail from Kastan (Blair Brainerd).

Maybe I should go see Samii, Voghebi (Ministry) & Ali Ardab (Min Interior), & Baheri (Court).

2) I went to UNESCO & look for their alleged report on Quan Bey Karimadeh. No luck so far in running it down. But they are in touch with Mrs. Adabi tomorrow. In the process I picked up a bibliography of their reports and set & read a 1969 study on women in Dezfoul.

Noon: 3) Asked S. Raja about conception & blood — got an animated review of genetics spiced ~~up~~ with the ideas about the 7 souls.

Semini has nothing to do with blood or food. There are 7-8 gutule or mouths in the vagina which "eat" the semen or rather enclose the semen where it turns to water worms. These worms then eat one another till one or two are left. The worms are sexual: male or female. At this point xun-xadan begins — blood comes from the mother's heart & the womb(s) cuts this. And grows. At 4 months Malek Nagosh transforms the womb into a human form & this takes 4 days; proof is aborted fetuses at 4 mo. are fully formed. At six months the fetus changes position. At 9 mo it is born coming from darkness into light — it cries — food change from blood to milk. Milk is better, is

(2) Parvin Hejazi: she insists the law says she can only ask the police for 3 mo. by 3 mo. residence permits, that this ruling is over a year old, + that because I am not a tourist she cannot ask the police to extend my tourist visa instead. All of the above are untrue: quite a no. of people have full year residence permits; the police do issue 3 mo by 3 mo. extensions on tourist visas for archeologists at the request of the Min. of Culture. Hejazi indicated this is a way of ensuring getting a quarterly report, which in turn is a farce since neither she nor anybody else at the Ministry is the least bit interested in the research we are doing. She in fact still turns up her nose at the mention of Qom.

(b) Dr. Reza Vaghafi - in charge of setting up RSKU under Sanii. He got his degree at Stanford + Mich State, taught at Fla. State. - He sees it 4 years before the first student enter + 10 years before it begins yielding real results. The goal is two-fold: (1) to train Univ. professors
 (2) to provide researchers

At the time of the withdrawal from Mecca to Medina, some sought refuge in Abyssinia under Christian K. Negue. Thus Islam came to Africa early.

He was born 19 Dec 1892 to a ^{Buddhist} samurai family w the name Ryōichi Mita; grad. from a commercial college at age 24 & then went to China where he picked up some medical skills & learned about Islam. He returned briefly to Japan where he was impressed by

HAJI OMAR KOTARO YAMADA KA, the 1st Japanese Muslim to make the Haj (1909 - in company of Mufti Abdul Rashid Ibrahim, a Turkish Tartar living in Japan), born 12 yrs before Mita. Mita then worked as an inspector on the Manchurian RR & in 1941-45 was transferred to Peking. There he met Imam Wang Beilan of the Nyidjie Masjid & at the age of 49 in 1951 declared himself a Muslim. In 1945 he returned to Japan, briefly teaching Chinese at Kita-Kyushu U. He did the Haj in 1958 & in 1960 became 2nd Pres. of Japan's Muslim Assoc. Afternoon: Afghani showed up & we agreed to try to teach each other some language at 7-9 am. I began by getting him to read a bit to me from Makarem's Hadout - It turns out that he doesn't like Makarem. Makarem took as his opponent in the old days Iraji, the Tudeh theorist, but his criticisms like his book Falsifi Naon are beside the point: you can't criticize a eye by a second but on its own terms. You can't write off Marxism

Begum Maryam Jamilah (clo Mhd Isaf Khan, 15/49 Sant Nagar, Lahore, Pakistan) mainly for the Maktab-e-Islam — she's a Jew from N.Y. who became Muslim. She's written an article on the Self Destruction of the West, anti-women's lib, etc. I pressed her a bit on women's lib & she expounded on the stupidities of "marriage is a prison", equality between men & women — it would destroy human life, we are not animals, a woman can't carry things on her back, she can, said I, why not. That let loose a storm, and I let things ride. He had agreed to help me translate a letter for Golayegani at 4 this afternoon. He saw the symbol of Maktab Islam

New Generation & complained that the circle was like a snake & had to be changed. I said in Indian symbolism maybe the snake was a good thing: shedding of the skin & renewing itself. He liked that but said it was also appropriate a 2nd way: it was the snake of the West ~~etc~~ eating our youth. Somehow or other he got into the ills of America & how they were all caused by Jews. Not till they are gotten rid of will America survive. The N.Y. Times, the Banks, Hollywood are all organs of the Jews. Electing of Kennedy, a Catholic was the 1st domin, next will be a Jew. Kissinger already isn't he a Jew. Sure sort of I said, but really a religious & married to a Christian. So he's picked Christian (godlessness) that's even ~~better~~ than your problem — at which all laughed — ~~so you're~~ (he left saying how crafty & worse). If Jews are so smart (why not make use of an evil spirit), why not make use of them? How can you make use of an evil spirit.

He brought up the Protocols of Zion & when I said that it had been made up by the Nazis, he flew into a rage & said I was either Jewish or truly ignorant. ~~exists~~ My only counter was to say Hitler (At What Price Israel) sounded like a Jewish name & he admitted not all Jews were bad, the Zionists were, to which I could retort well say Zionist for not Jud. He admitted he was using the wrong word but went on using it. ~~Habonni~~ said maybe there were 5 good Jews in the world. Einstein supposedly complained to Weizmann, and what about the Arabs? & Deermann supposedly said, Arabs? — they're just ~~wreck~~ maybe retorted I, but ~~treacherous~~ call Arabs lizards. The ignoramus folk said ~~Habonni~~. Re 1st Catholic, then Jewish pres., I said yeah there were people who said that in the States too & then a Black man — But he didn't fall for the trap but didn't hide his prejudice: Black man — what to worry they're dumb, but Jews they've got the best brains in the world.

And this hen is called an ostad!

want to blame the Americans for seeking profits in Saudi Arabia, OK, that's how the economic world has always been — one mouthful good words & then do other things, as an anthropologist if Nixon did evil in Vietnam it is my problem too as a member of society — society must be changed & not just cursed as bad religion; we can speak equally ill of them for sending troops to Korea. Above all if you want to speak of politics speak of politics — these are not simple questions: sure America has done ill in SE Asia & the ME. — would you be happier had they been left to the Soviets? To speak of religion when you mean politics is to reduce complicated questions to simple ones and to deflect most minds in the wrong direction. If he allowed there are difficult questions & they are not in our heads. We parted amicably.

Stopped on the way out to return the Japanese pamphlet to Jafari & ran into Afghani — let him read what Saidi had written both to let him in on where my head is at & to ensure it was legible (Saidi's eyes aren't very good). Afghani suggested I not allow Golpayeganī simply to take the questions — but as we could again reiterate he allowed as it was OK.

I took the questions to Golpayeganī & he said he'd look at them & give an answer in a day or so, but in the meantime invited me to sit a talk to an Aga'ī Roshnī. This proved quite useful: Roshnī, a black turbaned ~~ex~~ student from Rudsar (just south of Ramsar), runs a small madrasah. He is the only teacher & has 20 students. They come to him after elementary education: most are from farming-village background, a few from towns, a few from ~~rohani~~ families, a very few from merchants, almost never from white collar. Most go on to become ~~akbars~~ — they usually spend about 6 years with him & then come to Qum. A few study at ~~darvishān~~ (government high school) at the same time. When they get advanced enough to do it they go out to preach in surrounding villages — usually building up a relationship with a particular one or two & going out especially for Rama'zaan & Muharram. He himself is from a ~~rohani~~ family: his father ran the madrasah before him. He studied ^{first with his father, then} 18 years in Qum with Golpayeganī, Borujerdī & Sharifkhānī. Mainly with Golpayeganī. He also spent a year in Najaf with Ayat. Khāi & ? But basically he considers himself a student of Golpayeganī.

Shahrokh to help — Mehdi was in Qom! (outside Qom it turned out — with a Yardi manufacturer of gas cans at the latter's factory). I dropped by the Akbari's who seemed in good spirits.

Fri — There is still talk about radiation for Elaine — she has marks of burns. Shahrokh & I tried the tape & did OK if not great — 3 hours for the 1st third.

Afternoon we went to Park-e Farhang & then they dropped me at the Institute. Mehdi called back & we got together in the evening & did the tape.

Sat. — Went to Isra' Tour & found my old friend Bahram Nizamian who fiddled a ticket to Kuwait & Bahrain for me on Tues (Bahrain doesn't require a visa for Kuwait if you are going on to a third country). Talked to David about sending a letter to Parvin & to the Minister Saoni asking for renewal & complaining about the nonsense 3 mo. residence permit let him off & said this is a step backward for the Inst. & so if the Kuwait fiddle works, I'll do it gently, if not I'll push it hard. Returns to Qom.

Went to find Afshari to apologize for not being around Fri — he had gone to Teh. Thurs. — the dorm for foreign students isn't bad.

Sun — Read David Barry's draft on Tigrayia in Senegal & prepared comments for him.

12 Apr (Sat) - got ticket from Bahram + return to Qum

Musavi Alghani showed up at 8:30, half an hour late. Though he has to finish the year here, he seems to be set to go to university next year where he wants to study sociology. He's tired & fed up with religion for religion's sake. Apparently foreigners do not need to take the ~~final~~ exams. He took his Kabul H.S. diploma to the Ministry of Education & they OK'd it. It remains unclear what their acceptance procedure is and how he will be assigned to a school.

I pressed him on the education system here and in going over the books read, I picked up a couple of interesting leads: (1) there is after all a centralized examination system, done once a year in the Masjid-e Azam and corrected by a committee of teachers — there are 3 levels of exams; (2) Khomeini's brother he confirms gives out and has more money than anyone else in town — I remain unclear about the disbursement procedures — you can apparently collect money for doing the same studies from a number of people.

The texts: There are ~~the~~ 3 major branches of study: adabiyat-e arabi, then marraq, then usul-o-fiq. Adabiyat-e arabi is composed of five parts: ilm-e sarf صرف و حرف, nahis نهیس and together bayan, ma'ani, badiyy.

Under sarf one reads: Amsala امسالا
Sarf-e Mir صرف میر
Tasrif تصریف
Shar' Tasrif شریعہ تصریف

Under nahis one reads: Awarmel Mullah Mohsen عوام مولانا Hidayeh هدایہ
Sivuti سیوطی

1 June 1975 (Sun) - 6:30 I made it to the Golpayegani school. At 7 they had opening ceremonies, a boy in a beautiful soprano singing over the loudspeaker from the Quran, and then an older adolescent in deeper key a prayer in Persia. The kids were lined up in the larger inner courtyard for this. ~~Ex~~ I read the program off the wall. There are 5 doura of instruction here, and a preliminary 2 years at another building near Golpayegani's house. There are 312 students here, and 210 in the elementary school. The kids here are young; they start out with the equivalent of dabestan (that's the elementary). The program here:

doura 1: sarf, enshai' (composition), ~~eila~~ (orthography), Arabic & Persian, aqaed (beliefs), hadis, akhlaq, rasaleh

doura 2: Siuti, fiq arabi, akhlaq, hefs-e qoran, mantiq, aqaed doura 3: tafsir, aqaed, Hashiyeh, ma'ani bab 1

doura 4: malam, tafsir, mostasar doura 5: tafsir, english, akhlaq, usul-e fiq or qavam, lome' jadid aval fr ch. haj, aqaed, lome' first part

We went on a tour--classes are held sitting on the floor on carpets the one or two teachers sit on khairs. The director of the school has a degree from Daneshkadeh Ilabiyat in Teheran, and also teaches Arabic in the gut dabirestans; he is a Qumi--black turbaned sayyid. They have folders on each student with the social background information of father's occupation, who recommended him etc. which he agreed to allow me to look at tomorrow morning, since a man who could help me is not here today but will be tomorrow. There are no certificates of course completion, but attendance is regularly checked and the man who introduced the student is held accountable for his behavior.

Next I went to the Dar-ul-Tabliq. Razvi was in full flow of complaint about the Persians. I finished correcting the English of his abridged version of Shariyatmadari's degrees. He said several people had told him not to show it to me. Abbassi had said he would print this thing, but from past bitter experience he knows better: he wrote articles which were misplaced, shoved aside whatever, never saw the light of day. So he is going to try to get this printed without their knowledge in Pakistan or Sarah Hobson who got his little booklet on pork ~~xx~~ printed in England also has offered to help. Next week he's going to check in Teheran on the possibility of getting out of Qum; summer he's going to Lahore for a month. I saw Hassan Agha and asked him about statistics on Dar-ul-Tabliq students, and he referred me to El-Hami in rm 8 -- tho this morning he was giving exams.

At 10:15 Sayyid Hashem Bathai (black turban) showed up.
He has a B.A. in philosophy from the Univ. of Tehran & wanted to gain admission to the doctoral program but failed the English exam (13 out of 20); so he wants to improve his English with me for which he will trade knowledge of Islam. He was an army officer for two years after college (no way out of that) — anyone with a BA must serve. We began with the initial questions about Islam & Christianity — he was fairly good in keeping it relatively abstract; do you research to find out things ~~ver-a-ver~~ your own beliefs or only to collect things for a book. MF: anyone who doesn't do the former researches conceitfully. What do I think about the Zoroos — it is interesting to see ~~the~~ ancient religious items maintain & reinterpreted. Do I ever compare Bible & Quran? — Sure but as a sociologist I know that any book is interpretable & so what is important is the social use to which it is put; you can't just compare books. And so it went 'till he gave up & practiced reading some English from an E.I. article — no sooner he flunked the English exam. At one point cutting of the book for itself came up — Because one needs to touch 7 parts of the body to the ground in prayer (forehead, hands, knees, feet) Ali ruled you cut from the middle of the palan & not higher — so can still touch a head to ground.

I then went to see Naser Mekarwan to thank him for allowing me to sit in last Wed & asking to talk — I'll try to get back to him upon return from Tehran.
